MULTI-GENERATIONAL MESSAGING

Speakers: Lisa Talbot & Chris Earnshaw, Sallie Mae
Date: June 5, 2018
Still adapting to Gen Y? Don’t blink. Here comes Gen Z.
The Generations

Gen Z
Born after 1997
Age in 2017: 20 and younger

The Millennial Generation
Born: 1981 to 1997
Age in 2017: 20-36

Generation X
Born: 1965 to 1980
Age in 2017: 37-52

The Baby Boom Generation
Born: 1946 to 1964
Age in 2017: 53-71

The Silent Generation
Born: 1928 to 1945
Age in 2017: 72-89

The Greatest Generation
Born: Before 1928
Age in 2017: 90-102

According to Pew Research Center
Millennial Impact

- Born after 1980: Roughly 77 million people, 24% of US population
- Age of adults in 2017: 21 to 37
- America’s most racially and ethnically diverse population

15% were born in a foreign country

- In 2012: 15.8 million students making up 75% of Higher Ed enrollment are millennials
- As the Baby Boomer generation taught us, the larger the generation the greater the influence over norms, expectations and behavior
- By 2018, Millennials will have the most spending power of any generation as they will eclipse Boomers.

Meet Generation Z

• Gen Z is the generation after Millennials and tends to be the children of Gen X’ers.
• Marketers have been focused on Millennials for more than a decade.
• Millennials = Most researched generation in history.

• Gen Z is different from Millennials – They are almost the OPPOSITE or extreme versions of Millennials.
• Marketers will need to adjust to Gen Z
• We are just beginning to understand Gen Z and their impact on the future

but here is what we know and foresee….
There is a Population Tsunami Approaching

Approximate number of babies born in the world each day

361,000

More than a quarter of America’s population belongs to Gen Z, and with each birth, the segment is growing

They Intend to Change the World

26% of 16-to-19 year-olds are currently volunteering

Social listening reveals that Gen Z are determined to “make a difference” and “make an impact.”

Social entrepreneurship is one of the most popular career choices.

More than 90,000 students enrolled in grades 5 – 12 have the exceptionally rare entrepreneurial talent to help create more jobs within the U.S.

They Use Social Media as a Research Tool

52% of teens use YouTube or other Social Media sites for a typical research assignment in school

Gen Z = Shorter Attention Spans

8 seconds

is the average American attention span (down from 12 seconds in 2000)

11%

of children age 14 – 17 years old have been diagnosed with ADHD (up from 7.8% in 2003)

Gen Z are the ultimate consumers of snack media. They communicate in bite sizes. Research studies suggest that their brains have evolved to process more information at faster speeds, and are cognitively more nimble to handle bigger mental challenges.

But, getting and keeping their attention is challenging.

They Communicate with Speed

68% of teachers think that digital tools make students more likely to take shortcuts and not put effort into their writing.

46% of teachers say digital tools make students more likely to “write too fast and be careless.”

Gen Z are agile communicators: speed of communication and witty responses garners cultural currency. They’re accustomed to rapid-fire banter and commentary. As a result, Gen Z are not precise communicators and leave a lot of room for interpretation.

GEN Z – A GENERATION WITH DISPOSABLE INCOME
Spending Behavior of Generation Z

• Cash-poor but savvy - No shame in using bargain websites such as eBay or Etsy, nor in picking up a good deal second-hand.

• Almost half (47%) spend money on experiences with friends on a weekly basis. That makes experiences one of the leading spending categories for teens, below only food (80%) and clothing (67%). Their favorite eatery = Starbucks.

• They love to shop, especially on-line
  ▪ Nike is their top clothing brand, followed by Forever 21, Action Sports Brands, American Eagle.

• They lack brand loyalty - The products themselves are more important than the brands that produce them, and these consumers will change brands easily in search of higher quality.

• They are eager to start working
  ▪ Parents of Gen Z encourage their kids to find jobs early and independently without their help
  ▪ 55% of high school students feel pressured by their parents to gain early professional experience
  ▪ 4 in 5 high school students believe they are more driven than their peers

Marketing Trends

Gen Z Wields $44 B in Annual Purchasing Power

- Gen Z are known to be true digital natives, yet research shows their preference to shop in brick-and-mortar stores:
  - They want to be out there to find the thing that represents them; how can I look different and individual?
  - Their tastes and preferences impact shopping decisions within their own households (70% of parents turn to their Gen-Z kids for what to buy, from food and furniture to clothing and footwear).
- Top technology platforms, brands used by Gen-Z:
  - Snapchat: Snapchat messaging app and new feature called Custom Stories
  - Instagram: Instagram has surpassed Facebook in terms of engagement, with brands getting 3x more views and celebrities seeing 3.6 x what they get on Facebook
  - Musical.ly: Anyone can become a pop star with this lip-synching app. 200 M users. Videos allow Gen Z to sing along to their favorite artists and then share to social media sites.
  - Houseparty: A group video chat. As of Dec. 2016, the app already had 1 M users daily.

How to Engage Generation Z

In 2014 pluralthinking released a cultural intelligence report. According to the report:

- Gen Z has the lowest attention span to date. They won’t wait for a web page to load. 32% will start abandoning slow sites between one and five seconds and after 8 seconds they’ll consider it broken.

- Gen Z doesn’t differentiate between online and offline. The physical and virtual are the same thing.

HOW TO REACH GEN Z ON YOUR COLLEGE CAMPUS
Success with Generation Z on Campus

- Gen Z is not into “Helicopter Parenting” as much as Millennials were. But schools should still strive to gain parental support. Families are still involved with decisions about higher education.

- Increasingly decisions are being made around what peers are doing. They turn to peers more than higher ed experts.

- Outcomes matter more than traditions and cost to Gen Z. Appeal to them on what the outcome of their education could offer them.

- Materials should be colorful and filled with images – not text.

Efforts of One State University in the Northeast to Reach the Traditional Gen Z Population from a Marketing/Admission Perspective

Website Re-vamp:
• Images, pictures made even bigger for this generation
• Made text even shorter. Use of more infographics. Used more statistics; numbers
• Made information more career focused. Included career stats of major. Highlighted Career Services office on homepage.

Print:
Continued to provide colorful brochures. Created short infographic pieces for mailings. Remember consumer of paper is generally the parents; other family members who prefer “snail mail”, something tangible

Video:
University spent much of their resources here. Documentary-style film to capture the vision of the Generation Z individual
Focus of video was on the Top 5 Characteristics of what defines a Gen Z today:
1. Pragmatic
2. Globally Minded
3. Customizable
4. Social Media Natives
5. Digital
